U.S. PATENT AND TRADEMARK OFFICE SEARCH

This search is conducted through the registered, pending, published, cancelled, expired and abandoned files of the Official Library of the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office (USPTO) as well as through a database of USPTO records. All pertinent goods and services classes are considered for word marks. For design, initial and numeral searches only the International Trademark class(es) requested are considered. For those citations deemed by our searchers to be most relevant we have included both a copy of the official registration certificate for registered marks and the drawing page for pending applications along with a full text computer printout showing the USPTO data. Following the listing of most relevant citations is an abbreviated-format printout presenting broader variations of the mark.

NOTE: Because the Public Search Records of pending applications maintained by the Patent and Trademark Office are sometimes 2-10 weeks behind, this report does not include records of any new filings made during this period. Our searches are conducted in the public search rooms of the Patent and Trademark Office, Library of Congress and Bureau of Alcohol Tobacco and Firearms. We also use databases and software provided by private vendors. State Trademark records are often several weeks behind and, depending upon the state, can be several months out of date. We assume no responsibility for filing errors made by Government agencies or abuse of these records by the public. Further, we cannot guarantee the accuracy, completeness or lack of error in public or private records. We warrant that true care is exercised in performing all searches and services, but we do not warrant that the results are complete or without error. Any liability resulting from these search services is limited to a refund of the search fee paid. If the mark and/or goods searched changes, even slightly, a new search should be conducted. We are not attorneys and perform no legal services. Our report does not, and is not intended to constitute a legal opinion as to the registrability of the mark searched.

Description of Mark:

The mark consists of the letters W, h, o, D, a, t, t and a question mark after the letters. There are no spaces between the letters and no space between the last letter and the question mark. The first letter "W" is capitalized. The second and third letters, "h" and "o" are lowercase. The fourth letter, "D" is capitalized. The fifth, sixth and seventh letters, "a", "t", "t" are all lowercase. Each letter and the question mark is made to appear hand-drawn, with a mock 3 dimensional shadow depiction which is made with sketch-style hash marks that appears a bit sloppy. The style of lettering is not neat nor precise, and the shadow hash marks sometimes do not stay within the lines. Also, the lines that form the outline of the letters are not precisely straight and sometimes to do not meet precisely at endpoints. Overall the style is rough, blocky and hand- drawn in appearance.

Color Claim Indication:

Color is not claimed as a feature of the mark.

STATE TRADEMARK REGISTRATIONS

This state search report is derived from and verified in contacts with the individual Secretaries of State. In some cases we have added our assessment of the proper International Class. While every effort has been made to accumulate a complete list of all relevant marks, the nature of various state office records does not always makes this possible. This is not a corporate name or company name search. Our various common law sources are more complete for the purpose of company name clearance.

COMMON LAW SEARCH

Package 2™

These search findings are derived from approximately 2,500 trade journals, newspapers, magazines and directories as well as 20,000,000 company names and addresses listed in various databases, including the names of businesses that are shown as owners of U.S. Trademark registrations or applications. This search reveals many corporate names that are in use but it should not be considered a complete corporate name search. A full corporate name search of the records of all 50 Secretaries of States is included in our Total Package® Search.

Package 1™

This search combines all the resources used in conducting a Package 2™ search with an additional literature search of 600 full text databases.

Total Package®

This search combines all the resources used in conducting a Package 1™ search with a corporate name search conducted in the records of the Secretaries of State in all 50 states plus the District of Columbia. Besides all corporate names, this search also looks at the names of limited partnerships in 30 states.

Copyright

This additional search examines the records of the U.S. Copyright Office, Library of Congress, for all titles, authors and claimants of all works recorded from the period 1879 to present. An in-process search which discloses applications filed but not yet recorded is also available.
